To Whom It May Concern:

It is a pleasure to write a letter of recommendation for Adams, Eisenhower and Meckley, Inc. Architects. Our school district has been associated with AEM for over two years as we have assessed our facilities needs, developed educational specifications, and planned site selection and design needs for the first of three elementary buildings that are to be constructed during the next ten years.

Mr. Phil Leinbach has led AEM architects effort to meet our architectural needs. Phil's sensitivity to community needs, willingness to make adjustments, and trust have been among the best professional associations I have experienced in my twenty-five years of school leadership. Most importantly, Phil listens, seeks understanding and plans solutions that have gained the confidence of the school board. Phil has demonstrated his desire to use the resources of his firm to ensure all constituents of the school district are fully satisfied with our new elementary school.

While I will be leaving the district before the project is complete, I am confident AEM architects will ensure the school district meets building project goals effectively and economically.

Sincerely,

William N. Kiefer Ed. D
Superintendent of Schools
